

The 3D Results[®] Difference

Imagine a future where human capital strategy drives business Results. Where business goals and smart data align to inspire performance. Where you can optimize your only unique asset: your people.

This future is possible with 3D Results[®]

3D Results provides strategic consulting, implementation services and data science as a service for SAP SuccessFactors and IBM Kenexa HCM suites. Our Process on Purpose[®] methodology ensures a successful implementation as the first step toward connecting systems and aligning smart data with talent strategy.

3D Results' business-focused approach elevates your investment in human capital management technology beyond implementation to a strategic talent transformation that inspires performance.

We deliver Results on Purpose[®]

Our Approach

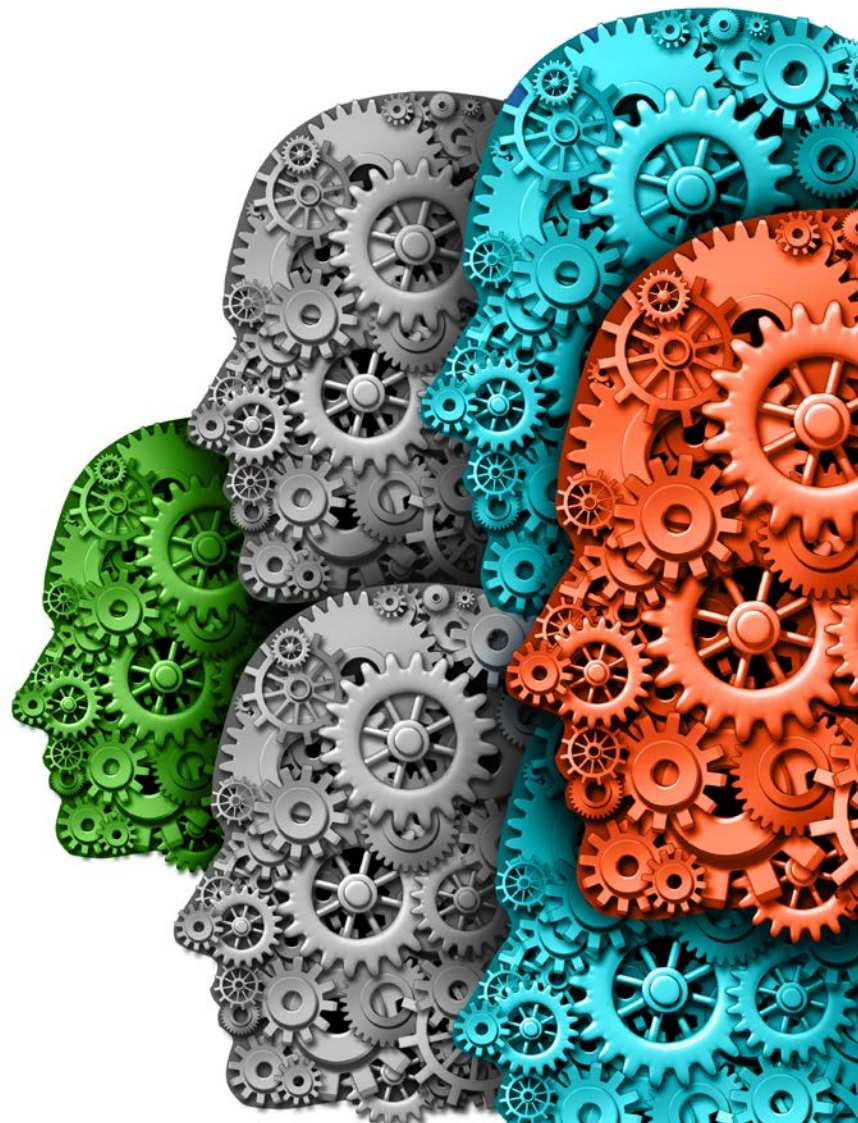

3D Results takes a comprehensive strategic view of your project – beyond just workbooks, and configurations – to unlock the key human capital drivers and link HCM domain expertise to technology to drive business Results. We connect your people data with strategy at the speed of business.

Our Areas of Expertise

3D Results consultants bring unmatched expertise in all areas of HCM, talent management, data science, and technology and a reputation amassed from hundreds of successful projects in virtually all business sectors. Many of our consultants were practitioners and know what it's like to be in your shoes.

In addition to being a premier implementation partner for SAP SuccessFactors HCM Suite, 3D Results is also a leading IBM Kenexa partner and reseller and the only partner to integrate SuccessFactors with the Kenexa suite for a seamless experience across the platforms.

Focus on Data Science

Most organizations have a tangled web of multiple human capital management systems, where disconnected data silos prevent seeing the big picture. Enter 3DR Cube, a reporting, people analytics, and data visualization platform that takes data from any source and transforms it – into smart data.

3DR Cube provides real time access to the insights leaders need in today's fast changing business environment to answer the strategic questions the business is asking of human resources.

We deliver Results on Purpose®
